

Life Path / Personality Analysis

John Christopher Depp II
09.06.1963

Life Path 7

Numerology Analysis for: John Christopher Depp II

Born on: 09.06.1963

The Core Numbers

The core numbers demonstrate the most important and crucial elements of the reading. The core numbers are the Life path, Expression, Soul Urge and Birthday.

Life Path / Life Opportunity

The life path, derived from your birth date, provides your overall life lesson. This number and vibration will be your main life opportunity, in which everything else is added to or centred around.

Your Life Path number is: 7

Johnny, yours is the path of analysis and spirituality. Therefore you will be spending much of your life thinking deeply on things.

This is sometimes known as the road of the loner or the hermit because the number 7's vibration is a quiet and internal one. The process of coming to fulfil this life's lesson means that you are required to journey to the depths of your being and come to know yourself on a very deep level. Equally you will reflect and consider the depths of all those people and things around you also.

Introversion is a good skill and being at peace with one's own inner workings and reaching an advanced level of self-awareness can set a positive example of self-actualisation to the lives you touch. Although you may rightly feel apart from others and even the everyday world, yet you are not meant to be a recluse. This would hinder your journey of information collection. In this way it helps to understand your likeness to an explorer and an adventurer, but not of the physical world, instead you explore the underworld!

A number 7 needs information and stimuli in order to understand analyse and compare. Therefore relationships, experience and getting out in the world is a necessary mission. However you will have to learn to keep a foot in both worlds which includes your internal oasis that you are hard to tear away from and the ordinary external earthly world which often you love to hate.

If you can successfully negotiate a life where you can easily dip in and out of these two lands you will feel balanced. If you don't find this harmony then you may become lacking and cynical. You can serve society best by finding a creative outlet which allows you to bring the inside out and allow others to be privy to your inner universe, which often can arrive to others as somewhat wacky, unusual and enigmatic. You must do something with your hoard of findings, musings and ideas.

The energy of the number 7 gives you a mysterious and sometimes forlorn appearance, for the energy here is magical but not without its price, which is what you may have had to pay once or more so that you could reap the experience of depth.

Delving into spirituality, the expansion of consciousness and exploring lots of religions or ideas about faith, the cosmos and the big reasons about our very existence should be high on your agenda because you are the knowledge seeker! You have both a perchance for the logical and the mystical and a true seeker would not exclude anything and instead consider everything in his pursuit for answers. Fear of the non-physical will only hold your journey back. Yet fear can come up a lot for the life of a number 7 because they can sense how deep they could go. Although when you go deeper you realise that often what was once feared is simply illusion clouding your potential.

Johnny, the kind of past times which would be beneficial to you are meditation, yoga, reading, studying, metaphysics, religion, psychology and any other sciences or words with "ology" at the end! Learning of any type is good for you because you feel at home broadening your mind.

Go the full mile to ponder on your authentic self but try not to get too serious because you can become stuffy, rigid and at worst arrogant or egotistic. You have to remember just how to get out and party and leave that questioning mind at home.

Expression / Personal Ability

The expression number, formed from all the letters in your name, represents your individual ability in life and the personal approach in which you can carry out your life path lesson.

Your Expression number is: 11

Johnny, your expression number is 11, which means your ability in life, is toward illumination and inspiration. The life path forms your overall opportunity and your expression is your vehicle in how you will fulfil the opportunity.

This number gives you the awesome ability to use motivation as a large part of your life. The number 11 is a master number and offers you a huge amount of high vibrational energy to fuel whatever it is you are passionate about. It's often seen as a spiritual or psychic number which can help you with developing your intuition. You will probably find yourself being highly sensitive for this energy allows you to see beyond the physical so you can understand the truth of all situations and come to know dynamics in people far beneath the surface.

It's of fundamental importance that you choose a particular focus or goal to harness the number 11 energy otherwise the lofty and fast vibration could leave you stuck in a dream world. Alternatively if the strong energy is not utilised it can cause nervous system problems such as migraines, sciatica or anxiety. Grounding is important for people that have this number in the core elements.

The ability to teach, perform or offer public speaking will likely come up at some point for this is the number of leadership and it allows you to shine often in the limelight or on stage. People will be attracted to your bubbly or magnetic nature.

Try not to get stuck in the vision stage and put the dream into action and use this high potential to achieve something concrete. You can do this by aiming for a tall rise building rather than a skyscraper to start with and through expressing you inspiring and motivational nature wherever possible.

Soul Urge / Personal Motivation

The soul urge, found from all the vowels in your name tell of your heart's desire, it's your inner-most drive and motivation in life.

Your Soul Urge number is: 4

Johnny, it's your deepest desire to create security and a successful foundation in either career or home. Your soul urge is what you wish for most at your core, and if you fulfil your opportunity of number 7 and the ability of number 11, you will be able to work toward this inner most yearning.

With number 4 as your motivation, you will likely wish to use your gifts as illustrated above for the purpose of allowing for a sense of hard-work, discipline and dedication to your chosen goal or goals. Therefore your career will generally have to serve the bigger purpose of helping you sustain your eagerness for continual progression and professionalism. It is probable that you like to feel some order and routine to your life. In addition if you experience unwanted change to your plans or daily life you may become insecure or bewildered.

This desire is also about the wish to feel safe and grounded with clear direction. It may be that in your younger years you felt overwhelmed with opportunities or were either unable or uninterested in limiting your horizons to get down to some serious work. You may have yearned for purpose or have had to battle through limitation. As you grow you will enjoy setting your own boundaries and breaking through with new ideas and ways of being. Equally you will enjoy reaping the rewards for all that attention to detail and great effort!

Birthday / Sub- Opportunity

The birthday number, the day in which you were born, forms an additional, smaller opportunity and is deemed your gift or talent.

Your Birthday number is: 9

Johnny, to add to your bunch of core numbers you have the extra life opportunity of the number 9. Although the birthday number is a smaller version of your life path number, it remains prominent in that it provides an additional gift you possess.

Therefore it could be said that, Johnny has the gift of selflessness! You are able to give to the world by your deeply caring nature. In fact you often touch people just by being present. You may feel concerned about planetary or societal issues because this number has a hugely global quality to it. You may secretly wish for positive world change and you may do your bit, even if it's in your own home through recycling or growing fruit and vegetables.

The number 9 is energetically about humanity, healing, and transformation. This number will therefore help you with any work you do with groups or in relation to the public. It can sometimes feel a weighty responsibility and you will be asked to balance this number by knowing how to give and receive equally.

The darker sides of this number allow you to work through issues of selfishness and endings. Additionally you can try to be so helpful to the person on the street that you forget to care for those closer to home, including yourself.

Sub – Elements / Month & Year of Birth

The sub-elements are the numbers of the month and year of birth which also influence your character and preferences.

Your month number is: 6

The number 6 in your month means you are gifted with the qualities of generosity and perfect home-making skills. You also have a talent for nurturing others.

Your year number is: 1

The number 1 of your year offers you leadership qualities and helps you to be unique individual. It is the number of independence and instigation.

Personality Number or Secret Self

The personality number is found from adding all the consonants in your name. It can be said that this is the number which illustrates how others see you and know you best. However it's sometimes called the secret self and depending on how you view yourself, you may or may not be aware of how you appear to the outside world, hence it's secret component.

Your personality number is: 7

Johnny, people see you as both somewhat analytical and spiritual. You will be remembered for having your head screwed on and a sound, well thought out sense of judgement. The number 7 offers rational thought and the chance for much inner reflection. Therefore people around you may know you to be slightly introverted and thoughtful. Moreover sometimes you give off a mysterious or intense haze around you.

It is likely people will trust your advice for they see you as wise and can observe that you run everything through a careful process of analysis.

Growth Number

The growth number is found by the addition of all of the numerological values of the letters in the first name only. Generally your first name is used most in life and will be your friend, growing with you. This number is a helpful energy which will always be of benefit to you throughout your life.

Your growth number is: 2

You are lucky to have number 2 as your growth number! Throughout your life this number will be on your side and you will love to find ways of relating to others with your helpful attitude and attractive sensitive nature. Making positive connections will be your special forte.

This energy helps you with diplomacy and peacemaking skills. Because the number 2 is both soft and slow you may find that these gentle energies can aid you to find a good measure of giving and receiving. Working together is what your first name stands for so enjoy all those important relationships around you Jonny, and learn how sometimes two hands are better than one!

Maturity number

The maturity number is discovered by adding your life path and expression numbers. You will encounter the maturity lesson by at least, the age of 45, or earlier at a time when you personally mature. If this number is the same as one of your core numbers you will have the same lesson coming back, however if it's a new number to the core numbers you will have a new lesson at this age!

Your maturity number is: 9

Johnny you already have this number as your birthday, so this is a returning lesson which you can work on more deeply. At maturity you will be deepening the lesson of selflessness! You may feel, or have felt at maturity an increased desire to be more active in helping those around you or you may become involved in more group activities or community events. The number 9 lesson offers opportunities to give support and raise awareness for positive change.

Humanitarian or global issues may become important to you at this time of life. The number 9 lesson at maturity can be rewarding as you discover how to use what you've learned or achieved in your lifetime so far to assist, inspire or support others with your gifts and talents.

Challenge Number

The challenge number is worked out by using a formula which decreases your day, month and year down to one digit. The challenge number is something you will normally need to master before the age of 21 years.

Your challenge number is: 6

Johnny it's likely that this challenge will have been important to work through in your early years. You have number 6 as your challenge number which means it's your mission to learn how to be both loving and responsible.

This number is particularly about family and nurture therefore it may have been the case that when you were growing up you were in some way unable to access good family experiences or you became overly responsible for a family member. Something may have left with you with an aversion or distrust in creating your own family or the ability to efficiently love and parent yourself. Love and responsibility come hand-in-hand and when we're loving, actions do not feel like chores but flow from the heart.

First letter & First Vowel

The first letter, often called the cornerstone reveals your material attitudes to life and its obstacles. The first vowel offers insight about your attitude to the spiritual and emotional sides of life.

Your first letter number is: 1

Johnny, your attitude to physical and material life is one of independence. You believe everyone should be their unique selves. You also welcome originality and necessary periods of solitude as a way of life.

Your first vowel number is: 6

In terms of the more abstract parts of life, you take spiritual matters very seriously. You are likely to hold a firm sense of dedication and responsibility to either a religion or a personal set of ideals. You may well enjoy an ordered or disciplined approach to your spiritual practice. Equally it is rewarding for you to join with others during this connection.

Karmic Debts and Lessons

There are certain numbers that hold a karmic debt association with a core number. If your chart reveals one of these then it is said you will be required to work through something owed from another lifetime.

Karmic lessons are found by the frequency of the numbers in your name. When you have zero of one of the nine numbers in your name you may find inadequacy when you encounter something relating to that number, either a person or situation. The lesson of this number will keep occurring until you master the qualities involved. You can consciously work through these potential inferiorities if you so choose which can in turn pay out great reward and a feeling of significant personal accomplishment.

Your karmic debts are: 4 & 7

You owe some extra attention to the number 4 lesson in this life because of a possible inability to commit, create or build something concrete and long-lasting in another lifetime.

The 4 karmic debt is about the chance for achieving something important and successful. You may have encountered indecisiveness or feelings of inadequacy in this life which, if mastered can build your confidence and your will to put in the stamina and attention to detail which will become your great reward. Be careful not to allow defeatist or flighty feelings to take over you.

Pay special attention to the numbers 1, (achieving self-sufficiency) and 3, (moving beyond superficiality or lack of purpose), because these number qualities are the things you may have struggled with last time around and can master now!

Well done: you have picked number 4 as your Soul Urge so you are no doubt working on this debt already!

You owe some extra attention to the number 7 lesson in this life because of a possible misuse of spiritual or religious power in another lifetime.

The 7 karmic debt is about the chance for transformation from egotism to spiritual wisdom. You may have encountered set backs or dramatic pitfalls in this life which, if made use of can alleviate the grip of your ego and allow for grace, purpose and greater connection in your life. Be careful not to allow superior feelings to take over you. Finding a way to be a loner without becoming isolated or disconnected will be important for you to master.

Pay special attention to the numbers 1, (achieving self-sufficiency) and 6, (accepting love and new birth), because these number qualities are the things you may have struggled with last time around and can master now!

Well done: you have picked number 7 as your Life Path and Personality numbers so you are no doubt working on this debt also!

Your karmic lessons are: 1

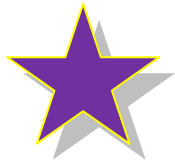

The numbers you may feel some difficulty or inadequacy around are as follows:

Lesson number 1 (Being independent): You will have to learn how to be a self-sufficient individual walking a path of your own design and feeling confident that you can generally take care of yourself in all areas of life.

Your karmic strengths are: 7 & 8

Gifted number 7: You have strength concerning analytical powers and introspective thought. You are adept at acquiring knowledge and rich inner experience both logically and spiritually.

Gifted number 8: You have strength in reaching material satisfaction perhaps in career and or home, including attracting financial wealth.

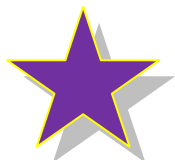

Effectiveness

The effectiveness is gleaned from a formulation which finds the differences between the spaces in your core numbers. It is suggested in numerology that the closer your core numbers are to each other in size, the stronger your chance is for life accomplishment. So for effectiveness, the lower your number the higher your potential for individual accomplishment is likely to be.

Your overall effectiveness is: 11.5

Johnny, your effectiveness is around the average mark. You have a master number in your core numbers which poses great potential. However it requires your hard work to accomplish utilising the high energy involved to succeed. Therefore your effectiveness number reflects the challenge you are taking on. You may take a little longer than someone without a master number to get where you envision but you will likely accomplish something substantial!

Temperament

We all have different temperaments and as we know some people are more mentally strong, whilst others are more emotional. Your temperament was found by using a chart of letters which correspond to specific categories and calculated in terms of frequency of these letters in your name.

Your temperament is:

1st place – Mental, 2nd place – Emotion, 3rd place – Physical, 4th place – Intuitive.

Your primary way of relating to the world is through thinking and you are likely to contemplate, talk through and ponder on all things strongly. Your second most dominant function is feeling, so you consider emotions as important too. Physicality comes in third therefore although you may value physical pursuits it does not dominate you in the way thought and emotion does.

The intuitive function is last based on your chart demonstrating the abstract aspects of life could remain your inferior function and you will value or be used to utilising the other functions more frequently. However we must take into account the strong number 7 and 11 energies in your chart which would add a substantial connection to the spiritual sphere and raise the level of your intuitive function.

You simply find thinking and feelings easier in terms of relating to the world. However it is often the incorporation of the inferior function that brings us most reward so you may well feel the need to attend to the physical sides of your life more greatly to keep you on an even keel. If you let practical, earthy pursuits slip you will feel it very quickly.

Summary of Your Unique Numbers & Temperament

Each person has a unique blend of numbers. Your birth date and name have created the multi-faceted person which you now are. But how does your unique concoction of numbers work together? And what do you need to work on to strengthen your gifts?

What can you do to increase your awesome life path?

Achieving a unique balance to life creates in itself a type of Nirvana so it is said. To find your harmony and strengthen some under-developed parts you can receive some un-be-known goodies. You can do this by looking in places you don't normally visit and stepping a little out of your comfort zone.

Johnny, you have quite a mystical chart which allows you to utilise some powerful and intense energies for your own potential but equally you will need to do some work to stop from falling into some undesirable situations.

These numbers can create somewhat of a loner so where possible, try to stay connected to the outside world and the mundane everydayness of life. Both 7 and 11 are the most independent and lofty vibrations out of all the numbers so utilise that grounded number 4 in your soul urge to keep you focused on the earthly goals you wish to succeed with.

Your main area of challenge will be the two karmic debts you have within the 4 and number 7. It will be important not to succumb to arrogance and egotism. If you become inflated over your ideals or your perceived intelligence superiority will trip you up.

Choosing to set healthy limits for yourself and maintaining a more humble and earthy attitude will put you in good stead. Others will be mesmerised by your sometimes bewitching powers, but be careful not to twist them round your little finger and control outcomes for your own gain. You may come across as moody or unapproachable at times because of the hugely dynamic and independent nature of your numbers. Try to enjoy simplicity and let go of needing to judge or critique everything.

You can use the growth number 2 to aid you in your relationships with others. Remember to ask for help and support. The 6 in your month and first vowel can lead you into being part of positive group and family situations, including the welcomed facilitation of self-nurture which you may sometimes neglect.

What is great about Johnny Depp and your individual life path road map?

The number 7 of your life path creates a strong, silent, spiritual and intelligent energetic vehicle for your life's experiences. People will know you to be deep and intense because your personality number adds an additional 7 to your chart. Furthermore your expression number being a master number; 11, binds together to establish an even more sensitive and etheric personality.

11 is the psychic number and if channelled correctly can aid you with being very magnetic, with much stage presence. The 11 mixed with the 7 gives you the ability to be sparkly and more outgoing despite your introversion. You will have to balance the inner 7 however, with the outer 11, which could create an oppositional conflict at times.

You are a Gemini which cements more mental energy to your strands of intuition and intellect. The mental faculty is equally your strongest function within your temperament with emotion close second. You likely think on things very deeply and creativity will ooze from your imagination if you allow it.

Even though you like to stay elusive and somewhat hermit-like, apart from when you like to shock, you have a beautifully caring nature toward humanity. Your birthday number 9 and maturity of the same number, offer you the means to give back to the world and when you do this you are likely to feel less isolated or empty. Love is a goal for you to learn to accept and when accessed, makes you feel more whole.

If you can use your eccentric talents to make a difference you will feel purposeful and rewarded. Letting others look in to your sometimes lonely or secretive world will be important. Except that you will need a lot of privacy and solitude. Exploring meditative and philosophical concepts and practices will help you balance the intellect.

Some famous Number 7 Life Path's are: Andy Warhol, Bruce Willis, Marilyn Monroe, Leonardo Di Caprio, Princess Diana, Jerry Sienfeld, Eric Clapton, Bruce Lee, James Cameron, and Muhammad Ali.

Number compatibility: As a number 7 you resonate most highly with numbers 7, 11 and 1. You get on well with numbers 4 and 9. You are neutral with numbers 3 and 22 but may have to work harder on relationships with numbers 2, 5, 6 and 8.

Summary of your number 7 strengths: Analysis, reflection, intensity, introversion, spirituality, pragmatic, meditative, intellect, deep-thinker, judge, problem solver, psychologist, philosopher.

Your Life Path Road Map is just the start. Everything in the universe reverts down to a number! You can find out more exciting information about your numbers, such as what's happening for you in 2015 personally which is discussed in a Life Cycles Session. A Couple's Comparison Session is a good way to understand your relationship or family better. You can even find out how best to choose the right home, business or receive help with a baby name. For your next reduced price session just send me an email. Gift vouchers are also available!

Enjoy the ride, and make the most of your awesome vibrational number mix up!
Love Hanna

Hanna Ehlers – Bond MA

Inspirational Life Coach & Speaker

Psychology, Numerology and Creative Holistic Practices

Registered Member of BACP, SOPH and NFSH

Visit Life Path Inspiration.Com